

5/7/2025

Brief Biography

Tohru Izumi, MD, Ph D

Current Position: Consultant in Chief, Koujinkai Niigata-minami Hospital/Professor Emeritus, Kitasato University

Born on January 21, 1947, in Sado island

Education & Professional History

March 1971: Graduated from Niigata University, Faculty of Medicine

October 1983: Humboldt Foundation Research Fellow, Studied at Würzburg University in Germany

February 1995: Associate Professor, Department of Internal Medicine, Niigata University School of Medicine

October 1995: Professor, Department of Internal Medicine, Kitasato University School of Medicine

July 2010: Dean, Kitasato University School of Medicine/Trustee, Kitasato University

October 2012: Consultant in Chief, Koujinkai Niigata-minami Hospital

Specialized Fields

Internal Medicine, Cardiology, Preventive Medicine

Memberships (Honorary)

Japanese Society of Internal Medicine, Japanese Circulation Society, Japanese College of Cardiology, Japanese Heart Failure Society, Japanese Society for Cardiac Rehabilitation, Japanese Society for Renal Rehabilitation, Japanese Society for Cardiovascular Disease Prevention, International Society for Heart Research

Awards

Japan Heart Foundation Prevention Award (2008), Japanese Heart Failure Society Award (2017), Japanese College of Cardiology Education Contribution Award (2P022)

Social Activities

Japan Heart Foundation, Niigata Prefecture Frailty Prevention Project, New Generation infrastructure for best Treatment/care and wellbeing